distDir

You can specify a name to use for a custom build directory to use instead of `.next`.

Open `next.config.js` and add the `distDir` config:

next.config.js

module.exports = { distDir: 'build',
```

Now if you run `next build` Next.js will use `build` instead of the default `.next` folder.

`distDir` should not leave your project directory. For example, `../build` is an invalid directory.
